Summary of Information

Site involves a "coming together from long distances."
There is a sense of something metallic, smooth, hard, large, with both hard and hollow portions that has a sense of towering over. White, shininess and brightness are associated, as is a sense of commemoration, remembering, veneration, and repetition. Distant vistas as well as wide open, starry night skies are part of the site. Additionally, there is a somewhat massive structure/object that stands by itself, together with some large, standing monolithic slabs of what seems to be rock with one laying across the top like a table.
